The National Conference of Christians and Jews

Presents this Certificate for DISTINGUISHED SERVICE
To
Lycoming College

For years of service to young people in providing educational opportunities for the development of personality unhindered by differences of race, religious or national origin to the end that they might strengthen the forces of democracy and freedom for all in a free society:

For its insistence that character, morality and good conduct regardless of differences and economic status are the obligation of all citizens, and the enjoyment of all human rights the just and unqualified privileges of all men:

For its open doors to all students and the privileges of fellowship among all class mates and faculty members regardless of differences thus exemplifying in daily conduct the ideals and principles of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Report of the President

President Wertz

Mr. President and Members of the Board of Directors of Lycoming College:

As Lycoming College approaches the close of the Sesquicentennial Year in its history, there is abroad on campus a deep awareness of our indebtedness to all those who have blazed the trails over which this educational enterprise has traveled. In the afterglow of one hundred fifty years, the College stands ready to face the responsibilities of the second half of its second century with firm resolve and high dedication.

The observance of a major milestone in its history has given the College some moments of pride and some memories long to be cherished. We bring to you today the report of the stewardship of the College administration.

College administration has always been a hazardous occupation. Never has this been more true than in this present generation and the record is heavy with the stories of brave men and true who have forsaken the President's Chair for some more comfortable seat. And as this administration crosses the starting line of the eighth trip around the track, it is with the positive knowledge that we have already passed the most optimistic estimate of the average tenure for college presidents.

In other settings this might be interpreted as cause for concern. In this setting I believe it is testimony of the remarkable relationship which exists between the administration, the Board of Directors, and the Faculty as we share a common concern for the development of an educational institution of superior quality.

Dr. David H. C. Read, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City, visits with Lycoming students following his Tuesday morning chapel address.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

It is with a deep sense of loss to the College that I report the death of Dr. A. Lawrence Miller which occurred on Sunday night, July 15, 1962. Elected to the Board of Directors in 1932 and made an Honorary Director in 1958, he maintained an active and devoted interest in the College until his death. Only a year ago he was honored with membership in the Twenty-five Year Club and presented an appropriately engraved gold watch which he wore with considerable pride.

I also call to your attention the death of Dr. W. Galloway Tyson, member of the Board of Directors from 1936 to 1957. He died suddenly on August 31, 1962.

It seems appropriate to recognize that Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, member of the Board of Directors since 1919, has been elected President of the World Methodist Council and named as an Official Visitor to the Ecumenical Council, summoned by Pope John XXIII, in Vatican City. We are proud to acknowledge the outstanding contribution which is being made to the Ecumenical Church by Bishop Corson.

Three new members have been elected to the Board of Directors by the Preachers Aid Society of the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference of The Methodist Church. Dr. Miriam Wendle is a graduate of Wellesley College and Stanford University. She holds a Doctor of Letters degree from Lycoming College. A resident of Williamsport, Miss Wendle is President of the LubriKup Company, Inc. Dr. Ralph C. Geigle, '31, Alumni Representative, holds degrees from Susquehanna University, Columbia University and George Washington University. He is a resident of Reading, Pennsylvania, where he serves as Superintendent of Schools. The Rev. Gilbert L. Bennett is a graduate of Bucknell University. He is Superintendent of the Williamsport District of the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference of The Methodist Church and resides in Williamsport.

Mr. Jesse S. Bell, retiring from active membership on the Board of Directors was elected an Honorary Director in recognition of his years of devoted service to the College. We salute him as he accepts a position which is commensurate with the honor and respect in which he is held!

THE FACULTY

At the close of the 1961-62 Academic Year, two honored members of the Faculty were granted retirement. Mrs. Mabel K. Bauer was retired with the rank of Professor of Chemistry Emeritus. Having joined the faculty in 1942 she served the institution with distinction. Dr. LeRoy F. Derr was retired with the rank of Professor of Education Emeritus. Following a distinguished career in public school education, Dr. Derr joined the faculty in 1957 and made a significant contribution in the growth of the College.

Having been awarded Summer Sabbatical Grants, three members of the Faculty traveled abroad during the summer months. Miss M. Ruth Grierson, Librarian, visited College libraries in this country as well as abroad in order to study developing library techniques. Dr. W. Arthur Faus, Associate Professor of Philosophy, went to study in Scotland and England. Dr. Robert W. Rabold, Professor of Economics, traveled to Austria to attend the Second Congress of the International Economic Association, August 30-September 6.

Dr. Loring B. Priest, Professor of History, has been granted a Sabbatical Leave for the Academic Year 1962-63 for travel and study abroad. Dr. Priest is engaged in extensive research in historical sources in Great Britain and plans to travel throughout Europe.

Mr. Donald T. Kyte, Assistant Professor of Economics, has been granted a leave of absence to travel abroad. Mr. H. Lawrence Swartz, Director of Public Relations, was awarded the first "Ralph W. Sockman Graduate Fellowship in Communication Study". This award was made by the Television, Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church in recognition of the retirement of Dr. Ralph W. Sockman from the pulpit of Christ Church, New York City. Mr. Swartz was granted a leave of absence to pursue his studies under this fellowship at the Graduate School of Syracuse University.

Mr. Richard T. Stites, Assistant Professor of History, completed a year of graduate study at Harvard University and has returned to the campus as a full-time member of the teaching faculty.

For the Academic Year 1962-63 the following new appointments have been made to the Faculty:

James K. Hummer, PH.D., Associate Professor of Chemistry

Clarence Burch, M.ED., Assistant Professor of Physical Education

Carrol F. Coates, M.A., Assistant Professor of French

M. Raymond Jamison, M.A., Assistant Professor of Physics and Chemistry.

Dean of the College, Dr. David G. Mobberley (right), greets new faculty members. From left to right are: Dr. Charles F. Seidel, Dr. James K. Hummer and Mrs. Shu-Shen Sah.

Donald W. Millholland, B.D., Assistant Professor of Religion
 Mrs. Shu-Shen Sah, M.S., Assistant Professor of Mathematics

STUDENT AFFAIRS

Student enrollment on October 1, 1962, totalled 1182. This compares with an enrollment of 1069 in 1961 and 996 in 1960.

Full Time Students			1109
Men	747	Women	362
Resident	738	Non-Resident	371

The Class of 1966 represents a carefully selected group of students chosen from 1001 applicants. It is a good class and it shows every evidence of being a class which will make an outstanding record on campus. Forty per cent of the incoming Freshman are members of The Methodist Church.

Non-Resident Women	12
Non-Resident Men	64	76

When the Fall Semester opened in September of 1962, there were 738 students for whom the College provided dormitory facilities. Of this number, 694 were given room assignments in dormitories which have been constructed since 1948. This is one of the exciting stories of the growth of the College in the most recent fourteen years of its history.

Three of these living units were occupied in September for the first time. The Fraternity Dormitory on Washington Boulevard is an outstanding addition to the campus. It provides extraordinary facilities for the local chapters of five national fraternities. The men's dormitory on Franklin Street and the women's residence on College Place also provide unusual facilities for student housing.

The tone of the campus has never been higher than it is as we begin a new academic year.

Mr. Oliver E. Harris, Director of Admissions, visits with members of the Class of 1966.

The Fraternity Dormitory is seen in this southern exposure. This remarkable $750,000 building provides the five national fraternities with accommodations for 120 men.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

By every objective standard of measurement the Academic Program of the College is making tremendous strides forward. The Faculty, itself gaining in stature and accomplishment, finds a new excitement in a student body which is demonstrably capable of outstanding achievement in the classroom. As a consequence, new methods, new educational ideas are finding their way into a program of learning which can challenge instructor and student alike.

Special recognition has been given to scholarly accomplishment in the Annual Scholarship Dinner where the outstanding students in each class were named Sesquicentennial Scholars. These Scholars are: Constance Burket and Dorothy Corson, Sophomores; Doris Horton and Dawn Sestina, Juniors; Constance Jacobs and Beverly Quail, Seniors.

The new Freshmen Scholastic Honor Societies—Blue Key and Gold Key—have focused the attention of new students upon the values that are implicit in superior academic performance.

The future of the College is related more intimately to our advance on the academic front than to any other single phase of the College program. If Lycoming College is to be the outstanding liberal arts institution we believe it is, it will be because of our determination to make its program of study significant and relevant.

To this end we must focus the resources of the College in a limited number of specific areas and make these areas truly great. No institution can afford to be routine in today's academic world and, certainly, Lycoming College cannot afford to be ordinary. Our greatness lies within our grasp. We have a mandate which requires of us that we arise to meet the opportunity before us.

This will mean new and bold experimentation, new and able faculty, new and adequate facilities, new and sufficient financial resources, new and dedicated faith from all who are committed to make Lycoming great.

THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The financial statement, which has been made a part of this report, will reveal the sound fiscal policy upon which the College operates. The institution is financially secure and the available resources are being used to develop a strong academic program. The total expenditures in the Educational and General budget reached $1,266,603.84.

It is of special significance to note that the gift income has exceeded $100,000. Of this amount, The Methodist Church contributed $56,024.68.

Central Pennsylvania Conference	$29,343.43
Erie Conference	2,636.00
New Jersey Conference	2,540.00
Philadelphia Conference	12,205.25
Pittsburgh Conference	6,300.00
Wyoming Conferences	3,000.00

$56,024.68

College finance continues to be a cause of major concern to every one who is interested in independent higher education. No institution can be strong without strong financial support. It is particularly incumbent upon the Church to make substantial financial aid available for the Church colleges to perform a significant ministry of Christian education.

The Methodist Progress Fund, a capital funds campaign conducted recently in the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference, included an item of $735,000 for the College. The campaign saw the total goal over-subscribed and already the College has received $148,467 in fund allocations. This money has been invested and will be held in reserve for the construction of the new facility which will replace Old Main.

THE SESQUICENTENNIAL YEAR

In many respects this has been the most rewarding year in our history. The academic program has attained a level of excellence never before equalled and this in itself is worthy of note. Never has the institution been held in higher regard by the academic community nor has it commanded higher respect within its own constituency.

It was significant that in this Anniversary Year the College should receive the Citation from the National Conference of Christians and Jews for Distinguished Service. (See Page 3) A companion citation was presented to the President of the College.

Highlighting the year was the special Spring Convocation, recognizing the place of women in the world of education. In this Convocation honorary degrees were conferred upon Willa B. Player, LL.D., President of Bennett College and President of the National Association of Methodist Schools and Colleges, and Mary Lou Barnwell, L.H.D., Executive Secretary of the Commission on Deaconess Work of The Methodist Church.

The Sesquicentennial Commencement provided a fitting climax to the Academic Year. Honorary degrees were awarded to the following distinguished persons:

Fred Pierce Corson—Doctor of Humane Letters
William Pearson Tolley—Doctor of Laws
Stafford Hendricks Cassell '33—Doctor of Laws
John Frederick Stamm '23—Doctor of Divinity
Leon Webster Bouton—Doctor of Divinity

Fred Pierce Corson, Resident Bishop of the Philadelphia area of The Methodist Church, receives from the hand of President Wertz (right) the honorary degree Doctor of Humane Letters. Dr. Robert F. Rich (left), President of the Board of Directors, sponsored Bishop Corson while Dr. David G. Mobberley, Dean of the College, assisted in the donning of the hood.

The "Lycoming Thomas Coke"

Mr. John De Pol has extended the series of wood engravings of outstanding characters in Methodist history with the engraving of Thomas Coke, 1747–1814. It is significant that the newest work of art in this series should come during our Sesquicentennial Year for Thomas Coke was living in America when the Williamsport Academy was founded in 1812.

THE COLLEGE AND URBAN REDEVELOPMENT

One of the most crucial problems confronting the College today is the problem of space. Located on a campus which approximates twenty acres, the College is surrounded by the City of Williamsport. In fact, it has always been so. Across the years the borders of the campus have been extended gradually to engulf the adjacent property and the process continues.

As we allow ourselves to dream of the future and envision the campus within twenty-five years, it is necessary to see the borders extended to enclose a hundred acres. We must have room—room to expand and room to breathe.

Because the City of Williamsport, through the Urban Redevelopment Authority, is interested in improving the area adjacent to the campus, it seems in the best interest of the City and the College that we should work together to achieve a common end.

Consequently, the College has been in conversation with the City and we have expressed our desire to develop a campus which will be adequate for the needs of the College for many years to come. We have reason to be optimistic and we believe that these negotiations should continue.

THE CONCLUSION

It is a great thing to inherit one hundred fifty years of educational development. If bricks and mortar could talk what a story they would tell! Sacrifice and devotion, sleepless nights and broken hearts, dreams shattered, hopes fulfilled, faith justified—this is the price of progress.

History confirms it, for the story of yesterday is already told. But our forecast into the future seems to offer the same fare. As our way has been paved by the dedication of those who walked this way before us, so we are laying the foundation upon which those who follow us will build. No lesser commitment is adequate to the demand which tomorrow makes of us.

Let us, then, dream large dreams, plan exciting developments. Let us look into the future, "far as human eye can see," and build for the world we see.

Please accept my final word of appreciation. "We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers; remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labor of love."

Respectfully submitted,

D. FREDERICK WERTZ
President of the College
